[Mill above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt properly companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solveney and reliability and homeable dealing, they have but few equals, and no superiors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below par, and are every way more reliable and permanent than reliable, and chark, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of joinie, as the experience of the past tendes, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and one-sided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsure their outstanding risks, the above maned companies always have and keep over and above their capital tries the amount, and in most instances four three, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for ilberth patronage.

Policies issued without delay, and farms risks for a series of years taken at less rutes than can be done by Mutual Companies, and a cardiarity given instead of an ancertainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid. CAPITAL AND SURILUS, - -

THE PIKE'S PEAK EMIGRATION .-- The Omaha Republican gives the following resume of the emigration to Pike's Peak passing that point this season: "Total for week ending May 27, 1860, 244 wagons and 781 men. Total for 7 weeks ending May 27, 1,768 wagons and 5,378 men."

LOOKING OUT FOR THE ENGINE,-Horatio Seymour, of New York, has written a letter refusing to have his name presented to the Baltimore convention for the nomination of president or vice president. He undoubtedly sees "Abraham coming afar off."

the 5th, between some of the officers of the La Crosse and a wheat agent, Mr. Simpson. The fight grew out of some difficulty as to freight. The mate, or captain of the boat pitched into Simpson roughly, when citizens interfered, and the melee became quite general, till stopped by the police officers. The captain of the La Crosse was fined $50.

Two men was arrested in Beaver Dam, on Taesday last, for an assault on a Catholic priest of that place. Their names were Kilmever and Aultman. It seems that they took offence at his reverence for some reason, and threw him down, stripped his coat off, and beat him severely. They were fined $15 each.

PROGRESS. AND POPULATION OF SAN FRANCISCO.—The San Francisco Bulletin of the 5th iust., says, in regard to a directory canvass of the inhabitants of that city, now in progress and nearly finished, that the sections thus far canvassed, as compared with the same divisions last year, there is no longer any doubt that the population of San Francisco will be found to amount to fully 160,000 souls. It is also found that the population of women and children and

of families has largely increased. The extent of the American republic is nearly ten times as large as that of Great Britain and France united, three times as the whole of Britain, France, Austria, Prussia, Spain, Portugal, Belgium, Holland and Michigan Central and Great Western (Canada) Railway. Denmark combined; one and a half times as large as the Russian empire in Europe; only only one sixth less than the area covered by fifty-nine or sixty empires, states or republics of Europe.

FLOOD BEFORE THE COVODE COMMITTEE. -Mr. Flood, editor of the National Democrat at Cleveland, was examined before the Coyode committee. H proved that his paper was started by the marshal of the norther officials, in opposition to Mr. Douglas. His daughter received a salary of $500 per annum for clerical services from the post office, but did not attend in the office, or do much more than copy papers. Mr. Flood was rather obscure on this point.

At the last exhibition of Mr. Rarey in London, Heenan and Sayers were seated side by side, amicable apparently, and much delighted with Mr. Rarey's power over borses.

The little daughter of Mr. McDaniels, in Mason county, Virginia, three years old, a few mornings since ran into the yard of the house highly delighted with a pretty plaything it had found, and was taking to show its mother. The mother was astonished to find it a large copperhead snake! The child had one hand just below the neck and the other about the middle, and the forked tongue of the venomous creature was proceting from his mouth in a vicious manner. A number of the family immediately ran to the child, and after some difficulty succeeded in rescuing it from its perilous situation without being bitten.

Hon. Experience Estabrook, formerly attorney general of this state, whom congress recently decided was NOT the Nebraska delegate, has returned to this state, and was in Baraboo last week.

A Mr. Suckow has lost his cow-so the State Journal advertises. The Columbus Journal wants to know what the poor fellow is to do now?

The La Crosse Republican says that $50,-000 have been paid out in that city for furs since last fall.

The Louisville Journal says; "It is estimated by those whose position in the rade gives them ample opportunities of aiming at a close approximation, that at least 700,000 bushels of coal have been lost during the recent storms between this point and Pittsburg. In after ages when some convulsion of nature changes the bed of the Ohio river, there will be a very respectable coal seam all along its course as the result of these heavy losses."

John Mitchell, the Irish patriot, is on a western lecturing tour. At Chicago, on Tuesday, he had a fine audience, who were sadly disappointed, as he did not in matter or manner come up to their anticipations. THE MORMON CHIEF ON HIS TRAVELS,-

Old Brigham Young has turned up in Philadelphia. He was supposed to be quietly managing his forty wives and "running the church in Utah, but instead of that, he has been two weeks, incognito, in that city. He s getting up a large paper mill to move to Salt Lake city. He has kept away from the hotels and public resorts, lodging privately with a Mormon friend.

It is said that it will cost $12,000 to raise the Tremont Honse, in Chicago, to the grade, and the proprietors are debating whether to raise it up or pull it down.

CAPITAL AND SUBJECTS, CAPITAL AND SORBILES,

THE above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt I proping companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solveney and reliability and honorable dealing, they have but few opacie, and no superiors. They are founded upon the rely best securities in the werld—first class bouls and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below part and are every way more reliable and permanent than railrond, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of panic, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and one-rided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to refusers their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital inter the amount, and timost instances four thous, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.

Policie issued without delay, and firms risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Mutual Campanies, and a certainty given instead of an uncertainty. All losses promptly silveted and paid.

THE PIKE'S PEAK EMIGRATION. The Omaha Republican gives the following resume of the emigration to Pike's Peak passing that point this season: "Total for week ending May 27, 1860, 244 wagons and 781 men. Total for 7 weeks ending May 27, 1,768 wagons and 5,378 men."

1,768 wagons and 5,378 men."

LOOKING OUT FOR THE ENGINE.—Horatio Seymour, of New York, has written a letter refusing to have his name presented to the Baltimore convention for the nomination of president or vice president. He untion of president or vice president. He undoubtedly sees "Abraham coming afar off."

FIRE.—The ancient town of Menominee, in Wisconsin, opposite Dubuque, says the Times, was destroyed by fire, Thursday afternoon. The fire is supposed to have been the result of an accident.

"A Big Muss,"--says the La Crosse Union & Democrat, came off at Winona on the 5th, between some of the officers of the La Crosse and a wheat agent, Mr. Simpson. The fight grew out of some difficulty as to freight. The mate, or captals of the boat pitched into Simpson roughly, when citizens interfered, and the melee became quite general, till stopped by the police officers. The captain of the La Crosse was fined $50.

Two men was arrested in Beaver Dam, on Tuesday last, for an assault on a Catholic priest of that place. Their names were Kilmeyer and Aultman. It seems that they took offence at his reverence for some reason, and threw him down, stripped his coat off, and beat him severely. They were fined

$15 each. PROGRESS AND POPULATION OF SAN FRANCISCO.-The San Francisco Bulletin of the 5th inst., says, in regard to a directory canvass of the inhabitants of that city, low in progress and nearly finished, that the sections thus far canvassed, as compared with the same divisions last year, there is no longer any doubt that the population of San Francisco will be found to amount to fully 160,000 souls. It is also found that: the population of women and children and

of families has largely increased. The extent of the American republic is nearly ten times as large as that of Great Britain and France united, three times as the whole of Britain, France, Austria, Prussia, Spain, Portugal, Belgium, Holland and Denmark combined; one and a half times as large as the Russian empire in Europe; only only one-sixth less than the area covered by fifty-nine or sixty empires, states or republics of Europe.

FLOOD BEFORE THE COVODE COMMITTEE. -Mr. Flood, editor of the National Demoerat at Cleveland, was examined before the Covode committee. H proved that his paper was started by the marshal of the northern district of Ohio, the postmaster and other officials, in opposition to Mr. Douglas. His daughter received a salary of $500 per annum for clerical services from the post office, but did not attend in the office, or do much more than copy papers. Mr. Flood was rather obscure on this point.

At the last exhibition of Mr. Barev in London, Heenan and Sayers were seated side by side, amicable apparently, and much delighted with Mr. Rarey's power over horses.

The little daughter of Mr. McDaniels, in Mason county, Virginia, three years old, a few mornings since ran into the yard of the house highly delighted with a pretty plaything it had found, and was taking to show its mother. The mother was astonished to find it a large copperhead snake! The child had one hand just below the neck and the other about the middle, and the forked tongue of the venomous creature was projecting from his mouth in a victous manner. A number of the family immediately ran to the child, and after some difficulty succeeded in rescuing it from its perilous situation without being bitten.

The Burbarism of Slavery.

On Monday last Mr. Sumuer made that body since he was struck down by a blad roos in the hands of a South Carolina bally. He came back after years of suffering to bear his testimony against the giant evil which utilicis the land, and to resume his labors as the representative of a ces we might expect that bitterness and re. hatchway which rose and fell with the ocean vengeful feeling would be manifested in his speech, if he followed the example of his opponents, who have not ceased, during his absence from the country seeking health, to slander him. But this is not the case. His tion of all personality declaring that vengennee belongs to the bord alone. "The years," said he, " that have intervened, and the tombs that have been opened since I spoke, have their voices too, which I cannot fail to hear. Besides, what am I --- what is any man among the living or among the dead - compared with the question before ner The speech is a searching investigatoo, of the whole subject of slavery. It anoparingly lave bear to the gaze of the world the barbarism of this monster wrong. Elthough no allusion is made to individuals, those who have attempted to defend and paibate American slavery will writhe under some of those will give vent to their feelings | coming towards me! in a howl of pain, like Senator Chestant of South Carolina. He sould not contain his care when Mr. Sommer sat down, and arose in his place and delivered a short ceply, which was conceived in the same spirit of radianism which incited Brooks and Keitt, than a Damaseus blade. He said: Before this question passes away, I think Lought to make some reply to the Senutor from South Carolina. I exposed to day the ourbarism of slavery, and I believe that what the Senator has said I might well print in the appendix to my speech as an illustra-

That was all he said. It was enough --He had the best of all illustrations of the "barbarism of slavery," which had pro duced such a senator as Chestnut.

We notice that the New York Tribune, and some other republican papers, regret that Mr. Summer chose the occasion of the discussion of the admission of Kansas, for the delivery of his speech; suggesting that it may have driven away some of the tender footed democracy, who might otherwise Lave voted for the Kansas bill. Not only this, but they speak somewhat disparagingly of the speech itself. It is too irritating, just now, &c. Now, we believe it is a good speech to make and to be read at this time by all republicans who believe what they preach in relation to slavery. There is a white livered, milk-and-water sentiment spreading abroad not promotive of a healthy public sentiment on this subject.

A STAMPEDE IN SOUTHERN INDIANA,-The old German daily newspaper, the Volksbode, of Evansville, Ind., which has been democratic in politics from its first issue, has hoisted the names of Lincoln and Hamlin and is doing battle valuantly for the republican cause. The Volksbode was andid geompton during the pendency of that issue, and has now separated itself entirely from the unclean party which it has served so long. The result of its movement has been a tremenduous stampede of German voters in southern Indiana and the Wabash counties of Illinois, to the republican ranks.

FRANK BLAIR IN CONGRESS .-- The Hon-Francis P. Blair, jr., of Missouri, was yesterday awarded his seat in the thirty-sixth Congress, by a vote of 98 to 96. The news is not expected, and will be bailed with gratification by his many friends through-und on the afternoon on which we entered out the country.

The Prespect Journal of the 6th states that on Sunday last, a house in that yielniity, occupied by George Garman, was struck asked the captain to heave to for few min by lightning. The charge was so heavy that the lightning rod could not carry it off. It melted the rod in two, where it was joined by a brass nut, and melted the point down. The shock was so great that it prostrated Mr. Garman and his whole family, but no one was scriously injured.

From the Boston Journal.

BY HAWSER MARTINGALE. [Concluded.]
Then again a gleam of hope would flit across my mind. I was not so badly off as I might have been! I had something to cing to, which, if the weather should continge moderate, would aid me to floot perhaps for a long time on the water, and my heart throbbed with a pleasurable sensation as the idea flashed across my mind that if I could hold on until the next morning, it was possible some vessel might be crossing that spot, and would pick me up! But when I reflected that vessels were seldom fallen in with in that part of the ocean, and that it one passed within a quarter of a mile, was a thousand to one against my being discovered, having no signal to display, I ugain abandoned all hope, and could hardly help regretting that my miseries were prolonged.

Then again britished would come to my aid, and I determined, desperate as my condition seemed to be, to struggle for life as long as I could move a muscle—to stave off to the most distant period possible the hour of death; for, oh shipmates, life is sweet! Though we sometimes meet with rough weather, head winds, sqalls, typhoons and pamperos on the voyage, yet we meet with prosperous gales, balmy breezes, and unruffled seas. Yes, there are many joys and comforts as well as troubles in this world, and as to the future—who knows what will be its character? Not a poorignorant sailor like myself!

And then I thought of my home, of my gay and happy in the present and looking forward to joys in the future. I thought of my parents, of my kind and loving mother. Eminetit speakers, whose names will be my brothers and sisters, none of whom had I seen for several years, and they never moment when I was about to land on the

But it is impossible to recount what passed through my mind on that terrible night -a night so long that I feared it would nevor end. My nerves were strung to their urmost tension, my head beat violently, and my brain throbbed with excitement. If I should live for ages I should never forget it. How rapidly I thought! How clear and speech in the Senate upon this subject. It vivid were my recollections! My whole was the first time he had broken silence in life, with its many incidents, and every person with whom I had ever associated or in whose welfare I had felt any interest, passed in review before me.

Hours passed away. The wind was light, and the sea comparatively smooth. The stars shone out with their accustomed brilliancy. The waves no longer broke over me as if impatient to engulf me, and as I sovereign state. Under these circumstan- partly rested my body upon the buoyant swell, and upon the sides of which I retained a firm grasp with my fingers, I actually fell into a doze, and incredible as it may seem, was for a while unconscious of my situation !

When I awoke the streaks of early dawn stander him. But this is not the case. His were making their appearance in the east, speech is imbound with the noblest sential and I eagerly watched the approach of day meats of charity; and he divests the quest to sean the horizon round. Having been so wonderfully preserved for many bours, I was again led to indulge in faint but hardly acknowledged hopes that I might be resmed by some passing vessel.

As daylight became clearer, I could see to a considerable distance in every direction, but no object met my view excepting the sky above and the dark water beneath and around me. The last spack of hope seemed extinguished, and I made up my mind to die like a man!

But as the sun rose above the horizon an object in the west caught my eye which refleeted the rays of the sun and shone like a white speek nfar off. I knew at once that it was a ship, and my heart throbbed again with expectation and hope. I kept my eyes steadily fixed upon that object, anxious to know whether it was approaching or reced. the kernerdge of the temator's scalpel, and ling, and I soon became convinced it was

The vessel came meaver, I could soon and became aware that the ship was on a wind steering to the northeast, and that i she kept on her present course, would pass me at least a couple of miles to the northward. Nevertheless, I watched the course of and for savage brutality has no parallel in maneavre, every motion, was closely noted, and I fervently prayed that some circumcongressional cowardice and mulice. Mr. stance would occur to change her course Summer's reply was concise and sharper and bring her within hail. But when an hour passed, and she continued steering in the same direction, my hopes were again destroyed. At that moment the wind hanled to the northward and headed the ship off a couple of points, and to my great joy she was put about on the other tack, heading dmost directly toward me As the ship approached the wind became insteady and sometimes I was on her weather bow and sometimes on her lee bow, and one can imagine my agonizing suspense as watched that vessel. As she came near, flaw struck her and headed her off a couple of points, enough to carry her past and beyoud the reach of my voice. Knowing this was my only chance, I quitted the hatchway, which had thus far sustained me in the water, and swam off in the direction to intercept the passing vessel. Fortunately for me the wind was now light and the ship was a duli sailer, and I soon reached a position directly in her hawse, which I was confident would enable me to communicate

As soon as I thought my voice could be beard by the men upon her deck, I began to hail "Ship aboy! Ship aboy! Ship a-h-o-y !" I hailed several times, and was nearly along side to leeward, before I could attract the attention of any one on board. At length the man at the belin called out, " Captain Hollax, I believe somebody is hailing the ship there to leeward."

The captain, mates and all hands rushed to the side of the ship, and were half frightened to death at seeing my ugly-looking head sticking up out of the water, and hearing me in a hourse and husky voice urging thom for God's sake to send a boat, for was almost perishing!

This appeal brought them to their senses. It all at once flashed upon their minds that I was no marine mouster, plotting their destruction, but a poor fellow-creature floating on the water and struggling for life .-The captain waved his hat, the men gave three cheers, the most welcome sounds I ever listened to. The main-top-sail was thrown aback, the quarter boat was lowered, and in less than five minutes I was taken from the water, kindly welcomed and tenderly nursed on board the ship Janissavy, bound from Providence to Gibraltar and Marsoilles! You, shipmates, I was treated in the kindest manner on board this ship, supplied with clothes and made comfortable in every respect. But the Janissary being no clip-the bay we espied the brig Crocodile under way, bound up the Mediterransan.

Trecognized the brig at once, and told Captain Holfax, who hailed the brig, and utes, as he wished to send a boat alongside. Captain Romney complied with the request, wondering what the stranger wanted. The bont was manned, and I took my seat at the stern and in a few minutes was alongside the brig. I bade my kind friends in the boat "good bye," and lightly stepped hat, said in the most respectful manner,

'Come aboard, sir. at last!' I never saw a man so astonished as Captain Romney was when he caught my eye as i passed over the gunwale. He turned as pale as an iceberg, and stepped back a pace, or two as if he had seen a ghost. But when I lifted my hat, and he heard my voice, he exclaimed, "It is Colin Hartshorn, as sure as there are alligators in Florida! Boys, he exclaimed, turning to the wondering crew, " here is our old shipmate Colin Hartshorn come aboard again safe and sound, having managed somehow to get to windward of Davy Jones after all!"

The Chicago Herald parades the wild barbarians who have been brought to our shores by the slave traders, and wants to know whether the declaration of independence means the equality of the negro? Nobody pretends that races are equal any more than individual men, in their physical and mental endowments; but it is the equality all men have in certain inherent rights which is the corner stone of the edifice erected by the fathers of our country, by the promulgation of the declaration of tors who made, many enquiries, concerning independence. All men-whether they are the novel exhibition. The vice-governor of white, black, yellow or red-whether they the embassy explained officially, the high are poor or rich-whether they are intellectual giants or not-whether they have an aristocratic ancestry or are of plebian birth was immense. The visitors leave to-mor -have an equal right to LAFE, LIBERTY and Phia. childhood, of my schoolboy days, when I the PURSUIT OF HAPPINESS. This is all that rambbed through the woods and pastures, is meant by the equality of men, and those the PURSUIT OF HAPPINESS. This is all that who pervert this understanding of a great principle, are those who palliate slavery and are preparing the way for its introduction into all the states of our country. They and Spaulding of New York, expect to succeed by pandering to the prejndices of the ignorant and their demogogueism as of the most pernicious kind.

The Baraboo Republic says that a curious trial under the dog law took place in village last Saturday. The constable of Greenfield, with two other citizens, suspecting that a certain unlicensed canine in that town was a sheep-killer, went to the owner's absence, and against the protest of the family, dragged out the dog and despatched him. This affair took place before the time specified in the supervisors' notice as to the limit of unlicensed curs, and created some little excitement. The owner sued the consinble and recovered twenty dollars and the Scioto Gazette thus illustrates the duplic-

ity of Donglas: "But that Stephen A. Douglas should object to a juggling dodge because of its duplicity, is truly refreshing! It has been his study, day and night, for the last six years, to conceal his real position (if he has any, which no man can prove) by ambigu-ous phrases, capable of two or more inter-pretations. We have often thought if it became necessary for the Little Giant, in a public speech or a political resolution, to refer to a cow, he would never write or speak the word as other men, c-o-w-cow; but would put it in this style—"the female quadruped which supplies the kuman family with lacteal fluid." See the advantage! Empt would swear the Little Giant meant heir favorite camel, and would grow enthusinstic. Lovers of "switzer cheese" would egard him sound on the goat, and support in. The "Arabs" (we have a large class t them) would quote his language as proof positive he was a lover of mares; while the denizens of the Blue Grass Region would never for a moment suspect be could have meant any other animal than the bovine

Tue Choss .- The following striking pasere is from Henry Ward Beecher's sermon preached last Sunday in the pulpit of the late Theodore Parker at Boston: "The cross has twined around it every association of dignity and beauty in the that vessel with intense interest. Every world. Not one other thing has received maneuvre, every motion, was closely noted, from the fertile minds and the all-fashioned hands of men of genius so many intrinsic beauties as the cross of Christ. Millions iever hear of it without a throb nor see it reflected without a genufication. It dawns upon the child in the craftle next to its own mother's face and it is the last thing from which the light disappears when this child The cross is now as in old age is dying. and the memories of men, as then it was rare, peculiar and odious; it is that which now to us is not only suggestive of a fact in Christ's history, but it is also a memorial of two thousand years of history .-Around that simple crosswood the heart of the world has gathered for twenty centuries its stores of admiration, of love, of devotion.

> LINCOLN AMONG THE CHILDREN. The following circumstance was related by a teacher from the Five Points' House of Industry in New York:

"Our Sunday School in the Five Points was assembled one Sabbath morning a few months since, when I noticed a tall and remarkable looking man enter the room and take a seat among us. He listened with fixed attention to our exercises, and his countenance manifested such genuine interest that I approached him, and suggested that he might be willing to say something to the children. He accepted the invitation the children. He accepted the invitation with evident pleasure, and coming forward, began a simple address, which at once fascinated every little heaver, and hushed the room into silence. His language was strikingly benutiful, and his tones musical, with intensest feeling. The little faces around drooped into sad conviction as he uttered sentences of warning, and would brighten into sunshine as he spoke cheerful words of promise. Once or twice he attempted to close his remarks, but the imperative shout of "Go on!" "Oh do go on!" would compel him to resume. As I looked upon the gaunt and sinewy frame of the stranger and marked his powerful head and determined features, now conched into softness by the impressions of the moment, I felt an irresimple curiosity to learn something more about him, and when he was quietly leaved. bout him, and when he was quietly leav ng the room, I begged to know his name. He courteously replied, It is Abraham

TRIUMPH OF COMMON SENSE,-The Rev. Dr. Cummings, the "Great Tribulation" prophet of England, in a lecture on the fulfillment of prophecy, recently delivered, referring to the taunt in the columns of Punch that he, notwithstanding his belief that the world was to come to an end in 1867, recently renewed the lease of a cottage for fifty years, admitted that the accusation, although not literally, was generally true: but his answer to it was that a beliefs in prophecy should not over ride common Lytton, or Mr. Warren? to which he ansense. This is a fair specimen of the logic swers; Dickens, for he has written All the of "sensation" preachers on either side of the Atlantic. Beside Dr. Hayes' expedition, there are, at least, four projected or already under that when he was merely writing novels.

Many rumors of an extravagant character prevail as to Mr. Sumner. It appears that early last night an individual representing himself from Virginia, called at his room and imperiously demanded an explanation of certain parts of his recent speech. Mr. Sumner gave him no satisfaction and ordered him to depart, which he did with threats. At a subsequent hour three others called, halting in the passage and sent up word that they wished to see him alone .-They refused the invitation to enter his room where Mr. Sumner was surrounded by friends and left sending a threatening mes sage by the servant, that they would come with a force to assault him at ten o'clock this forenoon, when Mr. Sumner's friends the Lincoln and Hamlin Club. The Barbarism of Slavery. On Monday last Mr. Sumner made a speech in the Senate upon this subject. It was the first time he had broken silence in that body since he was struck down by a bludgeon in the hands of a South Carolina bally. He came back after years of suffering to bear his testimony against the giaut evil which afflicts the land, and to resume his labors as the representative of a sovereign state. Under these circumstant partly rested my body upon the bacyant costs, hatchway which rose and fell with the ocean bachway which rose and fell with the ocean ees we might expect that bitterness and revengeful feelings would be manifested in his speech, if he followed the example of his opponents, who have not ceased, during his absence from the country seeking health, to slander him. But this is not the case. His speech is imbued with the noblest sentiments of charity; and he divests the question of all personality declaring that vengeance belongs to the Lord alone. "The years," said he, "that have intervened, and the tombs that have been opened since I spoke, have their voices too, which I cannot fail to hear. Besides, what am I-what is any man among the living or among the dead-compared with the question before us?" The speech is a searching investigation of the whole subject of slavery. It unsparingly lays bear to the gaze of the world the barbarism of this monster wrong.

Although no allusion is made to individuals, those who have attempted to defend and palliate American slavery will writhe under the keen edge of the Senator's scalpel, and some of them will give vent to their feelings in a bowl of pain, like Senator Chestnut of South Carolina. He could not contain his rage when Mr. Sammer sat down, and arose in his place and delivered a short reply,

Sumner's reply was concise and sharper than a Damascus blade. He said: Before this question passes away, I think I ought to make some reply to the Senator from South Carolina. I exposed to day the to the northward and headed the ship off a which the light disappears when this child in the appendix to my speech as an illustra-tion.

That was all he said. It was enough .-He had the best of all illustrations of the "barbarism of slavery," which had produced such a senator as Chestnut.

We notice that the New York Tribune, of points, enough to carry her past and beand some other republican papers, regret yound the reach of my voice. Knowing this that Mr. Sumner chose the occasion of the discussion of the admission of Kansas, for the water, and swam off in the direction to the delivery of his speech; suggesting that intercept the passing vessel. Fortunately it may have driven away some of the tender footed democracy, who might otherwise have voted for the Kansas bill. Not only this, but they speak somewhat disparaging with her. ly of the speech itself. It is too irritating, heard by the men upon her deck, I began to hail "Ship ahoy! Ship ahoy! Ship just now, &c. Now, we believe it is a good speech to make and to be read at this time by all republicans who believe what they preach in relation to slavery. There is a white-livered, milk-and-water sentiment spreading abroad not promotive of a healthy public sentiment on this subject.

A STAMPEDE IN SOUTHERN INDIANA .---The old German daily newspaper, the Volksbode, of Evansville, Ind., which has been democratic in politics from its first issue, has hoisted the names of Lincoln and Hamlin and is doing battle valiantly for the republican cause. The Volksbode was anti-Lecompton during the pendency of that issue, and has now separated itself entirely from the unclean party which it has served so long. The result of its movement has been a tremendaous stampede of German voters in southern Indiana and the Wabash counties of Illinois, to the republican ranks.

FRANK BLAIR IN CONGRESS .- The Hon. Francis P. Blair, jr., of Missouri, was yesterday awarded his seat in the thirty-sixth Congress, by a vote of 98 to 96. The news is not expected, and will be hailed with gratification by his many friends throughout the country.

Then again a gleam of hope would flit across my mind. I was not so hadly off as might have been! I had something to eling to, which, if the weather should continue moderate, would aid me to float perhaps for a long time on the water, and my heart throbbed with a pleasurable sensation as the idea flashed across my mind that if I could hold on until the next morning, it was possible some vessel might be crossing that spot, and would nick me up! The Baraboo Republic says that a curious trial under the dog law took place in village last Saturday. The constable of Greenfield, with two other citizens, suspecting that a certain unlicensed canine in that town was a sheep-killer, went to the owner's absence, and against the protest of the family, dragged out the dog and despatched him. This affair took place before the time specified in the supervisors' notice as to the limit of unlicensed curs, and created some little excitement. The owner sued the conliancy. Douglas on Cows .-- A clever writer in the Scioto Gazette thus illustrates the duplicity of Donglas : "But that Stephen A. Douglas should Diject to a juggling dodge because of its laplicity, is truly refreshing! It has been nis study, day and night, for the last six rears, to conceal his real position (if he has my, which no man can prove) by ambiguous phrases, capable of two or more interprelations. We have often thought if it became necessary for the Little Giant, in a public speech or a political resolution, to refer to a cow, he would never write or speak the word as other men, c-o-w--cow; but would put it in this style--"the famale quadruped which supplies the human family with lacteal fluid." See the advantage! Egypt would swear the Little Giant meant their favorite camel, and would grow enthulastic. Lovers of "switzer cheese" would egard him sound on the goat, and support The " Arabs" (we have a large class of them) would quote his language as proof positive he was a lover of mares; while the lenizens of the Blue Grass Region would never for a moment suspect he could have meant any other animal than the hovine late Theodore Parker at Boston : "The cross has twined around it every association of dignity and beauty in the world. Not one other thing has received from the fertile minds and the all-fashioned and for savage brutality has no parallel in maneuvre, every motion, was closely noted, from the fertile minds and the all-fashioned congressional cowardice and malice. Mr. and I fervently prayed that some circum-hands of men of genius so many intrinsic stance would occur to change her course beauties as the cross of Christ. Millions and bring her within hail. But when an never hear of it without a throb nor see it hour passed, and she continued steering in reflected without a genuflection. It dawns barbarism of slavery, and I believe that couple of points, and to my great joy she in old ago is dying. The cross is now as what the Senator has said I might well print was put about on the other tack, heading universal and as beautiful to the associations and the memories of men, as then it was rare, peculiar and odious; it is that which now to us is not only suggestive of a fact n Christ's history, but it is also a memori al of two thousand years of history.— Around that simple crosswood the heart of he world has gathered for twenty centuries its stores of admiration, of love, of devotion.

> LANCOLN AMONG THE CHILDREN.-The following circumstance was related by a teacher from the Five Points' House of Industry in New York : "Our Sunday School in the Five Points was assembled one Sabbath morning a few months since, when I noticed a tall and remarkable looking man enter the room and take a sent among us. He listened with fixed attention to our exercises, and his countenance manifested such genuine interest that I approached him, and suggested that he might be willing to say something o the children. He accepted the invitation with evident pleasure, and coming forward, began a simple address, which at once fascinated every little hearer, and hushed the oom into silence. His language was strikngly beautiful, and his tones musical with atensest feeling. The little faces around drooped into sad conviction as he attered sentences of warning, and would brighten into sunshine as he spoke cheerful words of promise. Once or twice he attempted to close his remarks, but the imperative shout of "Go on!" "Oh do go on!" would com-pel him to resume. As I looked upon the gaunt and sinewy frame of the stranger and marked his powerful head and determined features, now conched into softness by the impressions of the moment, I felt an irre sistible curiosity to learn something more boat him, and when he was quietly leavng the room, I begged to know his name, season. le conrecusly replied, 'It is Abraham incoln of Illinois."

TRIUMPH OF COMMON SENSE .- The Rev. Dr. Cummings, the "Great Tribulation" prophet of Eugland, in a lecture on the fulfilment of prophecy, recently delivered, referring to the taunt in the columns of Punch world was to come to an end in 1867, recently renewed the lease of a cottage for fifty years, admitted that the accusation, although not literally, was generally true; but his answer to it was that a belief in prophecy should not over-ride common sense. Pire Department.

The annual review of the fire department took place yesterday. All the companies of the city were out and the review was conducted by the chief engineer, mayor and common council.

After the review, the following address was delivered by Mayor Treat: GENTLEMEN OF THE FIRE DEPARTMENT:

Upon an occasion like this-an annual eview of the fire department of the cityt may be proper, in behalf of the common council and the citizens of Janesville, that I should say something to you who voluntarily organize yourselves into an association for the very laudable purpose of proteeting the lives and property of our people from the ruvages of fire.

I congratulate you upon the efficiency, of your organization, and the fidelity and promptness with which you have performed the duties entrusted to you; and I assure you of the admiration and approval of a protected public.

You are deserving of unbounded praise for the energy and untiring devotion you have manifested in originating and forming your companies. You have done it without any expectation of an amolument or re-On motion of Ald. Shelton, the mayor the grateful hearts of your fellow citizens. The nimost harmony and good-will have ever prevailed among you in council, and out of it the every-day business of life .--You seem to have learned that this life is entirely too brief for you to nurse animosities, harbor wrongs or plot revenge; and if divisions have occurred or ill-feelings been the passing hour that originated them; and to-day, gentlemen, your names among firemen throughout the state are as familiar as household words. You are unsurpassed as Medical and Chemical Preparations and firemen, as your trophies from abroad justly testify. You are well worthy of the name of firemen, and as such you have ev. FAMILIES, PHYSICIANS, PAINTERS, or received the best wishes of the good citizens, and the cordial approval and support of the common council.

Where all have done their full share in promoting the best interest of the department. I have no desire to particularize ;but when I say that much of the efficiency of your organization and the good feeling prevailing at this time is attributable to Ira-Justin, Jr., your worthy chief engineer, who has for so many years occupied his present position, you will each and every one of you bear me witness.

The mottoes of your various companies apon your banners, "We raze to save," Actuated by benevolence, impelled by emulation." "Rock River, a never failing stream," are emblematic of your motives, and I trust that you will ever act in accordance with them. Indulging the hope that in the future, as n the past, your conduct as firemen and citizens will be such as to merit the approbation of the people and the approval of the common council, I extend to you our kind regards, with the assurance of a hearty co-operation in the arduous duties which becomes your province as firemen to perform.

The address being concluded, the line was formed according to the published order of the chief engineer, and marched through the streets designated to the lower bridge, when the trial between the engines The repeal of the ordinance for the arrest | Vermilye and Robert Patten as judges, and

REGULAR MEETING, } FRIDAT EVENING, June 8. } Present-The Mayor, and Ald. Bates, Belion, Dickson, Smith, Shelton and Pearce.

Absent-Ald. Pease and Tailman. On motion of Ald. Shelton, the mayor and treasurer were authorized to raise the money necessary to pay the cupons on city bonds due July 1, 1861.

The license committee reported in favor on his paying $25.

The same committee reported in favor of $25 therefor, and $25 as costs in the suit against him.

The same committee reported against the petition of the druggists of the city for a remended that license be granted them on the payment of the usual fee. The same committee reported in favor of a license to S. W. Shaksheskey.

These reports were all concurred in. An order was adopted for the discharge of a mortgage held by the city against B. Gardiner, the same having been paid,

An order was adopted to receive sealed proposals for lighting and taking care of the council room for one year. An estimate of the expenses of the schools of the city for the next year, and a recommendation to lay a tax of $6,500, from the board of education, was received and referred to the finance committee.

A petition from two-thirds of the property holders on West Milwaukee street for paying the street and laying sidewalks on that part of that street where there are none was to prepare the necessary papers and report ance with them. them to the council. Twenty-five dollars of the license fee for

Van Amburgh's menagerie was remitted. The city attorney and alderman from the 4th ward had leave to withdraw their report on the petition of S. Chase for damages for injuries received in the street near Monterey Bridge. It is understood that the proposed defence on the part of the city, that the street had never been legally opened, is not a valid one, the street having been legally laid out and opened.]

The printing committee were instructed to ascertain the expense of printing a requisite number of copies of the city charter. The repeal of the ordinance for the arrest of drunken men in the streets was referred to the city attorney and judiciary com-

Fire Department.

The annual review of the fire department took place yesterday. All the companies of the city were out and the review was conducted by the chief engineer, mayor and common conneil.

After the review, the following address vas delivered by Mayor Treat: GENTLEMEN OF THE FIRE DEPARTMENT:

Upon an occasion like this-an annual eview of the fire department of the citymay be proper, in behalf of the common council and the citizens of Janesville, that I should say something to you who voluntarily organize yourselves into an association for the very laudable purpose of protecting the lives and property of our people from the revages of fire.

I congratulate you upon the efficiency of your organization, and the fidelity and promptness with which you have performed the duties entrusted to you; and I assure Groceries and Family Stores! you of the admiration and approval of a protected public.

You are deserving of unbounded praise for the energy and untiring devotion you Physicians' & Druggists' Glass Ware, have manifested in originating and forming your companies. You have done it without any expectation of an emolument or reward, save that which you all receive from | Drugs, Medicines, Paints, Oils, Varnishes, the grateful hearts of your fellow citizens.

The utmost harmony and good-will have ever prevailed among you in council, and out of it the every-day business of life .--You seem to have learned that this life is of extending the license of George Graham entirely too brief for you to nurse animosities, harbor wrongs or plot revenge : and if divisions have occurred or ill-feelings been a license to John Roethenger, on payment of engendered, they have been forgotten with the passing hour that originated them; and to-day, gentlemen, your names among firemen throughout the state are as familiar as household words. You are unsurpassed as duction of license to sell liquors, and recom- firemen, as your trophies from abroad justly testify. You are well worthy of the name of firemen, and as such you have ever received the best wishes of the good citizens, and the cordial approval and support of the common council.

Where all have done their full share in promoting the best interest of the department, I have no desire to particularize ;--but when I say that much of the efficiency of your organization and the good feeling prevailing at this time is attributable to Ira Justin, Jr., your worthy chief engineer, who has for so many years occupied his present position, you will each and every one of you bear me witness.

The mottues of your various companies upon your banners, "We raze to save," Actuated by benevolence, impelled by emulation," "Rock River, a never failing stream," are emblematic of your motives, referred to Ald. Belton and the city attorney and I trust that you will ever act in accord-

Indulging the hope that in the future, as in the past, your conduct as firemen and citizens will be such as to merit the approbation of the people and the approval of the common council, I extend to you our kind regards, with the assurance of a hearty co-operation in the arduous duties which becomes your province as firemen to perform.

The address being concluded, the line was formed according to the published order of the chief engineer, and marched through the streets designated to the lower bridge, when the trial between the engines took place, Messrs. Wm. A. Eager, J. H. Vermilye and Robert Patter as judges, and Mr. Platt Eycleshimer keeping the time,

In they are expressions like the following:—"An honor to American science, rasts and criticism." "An endorthy value and ambority." "Newer found any work which so uniformly satisfied my inquiries." "Husers been my constant companion in my practice at the bar, and for the last five years upon the bench.—I have ever found it a safe controller, and an indispensable help in the preparation and decision of cases." "For the sake of my country and the English language, I rejoice in the wonderful standard excellence, as well as acidentry, your Diefonory basantianet. It is a work for the present, and for all coming time." "Stands unquestionably preeminent." "There seems every prospect that it will be the standard look for this country, at least, if not for England. I am coment it should be so." "This truly general and American literature. It is difficult to conceive of anything that could be added to, fit for those ends." "A vast treasury of Knowledge, the whola of which is needed by every one who uses the English haugunge, either as a writer," speaker, or a reader." "Chieff to be a part of the furniture of every American base," "We long ago accepted Wobster as the standard in our college, and the experience of every te

[2] Paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely apon their real merits. In point of solvency and reinhillity and honorable dealing, they have but five equals, and no superiors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and mortgages upon proporty in New York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below par, and are every way mere reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the finetunitions of the market, and liable, in times of panic, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, railuclass. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to misicuch by publishing partial and anesided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsure their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital have the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.

[3] Policies issued without delay, and facrus risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Mutual Companies, and a certainty given instead of an uncertainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

THE PIRE'S PEAK EMIGRATION.—The Omaha Republican gives the following resume of the emigration to Pike's Peak passing that point this season: "Total for week ending May 27, 1860, 244 wagons and 781 men. Total for 7 weeks ending May 27, 1,768 wagons and 5,378 men."

LOOKING OUT YOR THE ENGINE .-- HORAtio Seymour, of New York, has written a etter refusing to have his name presented to the Baltimore convention for the nomination of president or vice president. He undoubtedly sees "Abraham coming afar off."

FIRE.-The ancient town of Menominee, in Wisconsin, opposite Dubuque, says the Times, was destroyed by fire, Thursday afternoon. The fire is supposed to have been the result of an accident.

"A Big Muss,"-says the La Crosse Union & Democrat, came off at Winona on the 5th, between some of the officers of the La Crosse and a wheat agent, Mr. Simpson. The fight grew out of some difficulty as to freight. The mate, or captain of the boat pitched into Simpson roughly, when citizens interfered, and the melee became quite general, till stopped by the police officers. The captain of the La Crosse was fined $50.

Two men was arrested in Beaver Dam. on Tuesday last, for an assault on a Catholic priest of that place. Their names were Kilmeyer and Aultman. It seems that they took offence at his reverence for some reason, and threw him down, stripped his coat off, and beat him severely. They were fined $15 each.

PROGRESS AND POPULATION OF SAN Francisco.—The San Francisco Bulletin of the 5th iust., says, in regard to a directory canvass of the inhabitants of that city, now in progress and nearly finished, that the sections thus far canvassed, as compared with the same divisions last year, there is no longer any doubt that the population of San Francisco will be found to amount to fully 160,000 souls. It is also found that the population of women and children and of families has largely increased.

The extent of the American republic is nearly ten times as large as that of Great Britain and France united, three times as the whole of Britain, France, Austria, Prussia, Spain, Portugal, Belgium, Holland and Dénmark combined; one and a balf times as large as the Russian empire in Europe; only only one-sixth less than the area covered by fifty-nine or sixty empires, states or republics of Europe.

FLOOD BEFORE THE COVODE COMMITTEE. -Mr. Flood, editor of the National Democrat at Cleveland, was examined before the Covode committee. H proved that his paper was started by the marshal of the northern district of Ohio, the postmaster and other officials, in opposition to Mr. Douglas. His daughter received a salary of $500 per annum for clerical services from the post office, but did not attend in the office, or do much more than copy papers. Mr. Flood was rather obscure on this point.

At the last exhibition of Mr. Rarey in London, Heenan and Savers were seated side by side, amicable apparently, and much delighted with Mr. Rarey's power over horses. The little daughter of Mr. McDaniels, in Mason county, Virginia, three years old, a few mornings since ran into the yard of the house highly delighted with a pretty play thing it had found, and was taking to show its mother. The mother was astonished to find it a large copperhead snake! The child had one hand just below the neck and the other about the middle, and the forked tongue of the venomous creature was projecting from his mouth in a vicious manner. A number of the family immediately ran to the child, and after some difficulty succeeded in rescuing it from its perilous situation without being bitten.

Hon. Experience Estabrook, formerly attorney general of this state, whom congress recently decided was not the Nebraska del egate, has returned to this state, and was in Baraboo last week.

A Mr. Suckow has lost his cow-so the State Journal advertises. The Columbus Journal wants to know what the poor fellow is to do now?

The La Crosse Republican says that $50, 000 have been paid out in that city for furs since last fall.

The Louisville Journal says: "It is estimated by those whose position in the trade gives them ample opportunities of aiming at a close approximation, that at least 700,000 bushels of coal have been lost during the recent storms between this point and Pittsburg. In after ages when some convulsion of nature changes the bed of the Ohio river, there will be a very respectable coal seam all along its course as the result of these heavy losses."

John Mitchell, the Irish patriot, is on a western lecturing tour. At Chicago, on Tuesday, he had a fine audience, who were sadly disappointed, as he did not in matter or manner come up to their anticipations. THE MORMON CHIEF ON HIS TRAVELS .-Old Brigham Young has turned up in Philadelphia. He was supposed to be quietly managing his forty wives and "running the church in Utah, but instead of that, he has been two weeks, incognito, in that city. He is getting up a large paper mill to move to

with a Mormon friend. It is said that it will cost $12,000 to raise the Tramont House, in Chicago, to the grade, and the proprietors are debating whether to raise it up or pull it down.

GRAND REPUBLICAN MASS MEETING.

The Republicans of Rick and adjoining counties, and throughout the state, are invited to assemble in mass convention in the city of Beloit, on Friday, the 13th day of July next. Eminent speakers, whose names will be announced hereafter, will be secured for the

the Lincoln and Hamiin Club.

On Monday last Mr. Sumner made : speech in the Senate upon this subject. It was the first time he had broken silence in that body since he was struck down by a bludgeon in the hands of a South Carolina bully. He came back after years of suffering to bear his testimony against the giant evil which afflicts the land, and to resame his labors as the representative of a sovereign state. Under these circumstances we might expect that bitterness and revengeful feelings would be manifested in his speech, if he followed the example of his opponents, who have not ceased, during his seem, was for a while unconscious of my absence from the country seeking health, to slander him. But this is not the case. His speech is imbued with the noblest sentiments of charity; and he divests the quesgeance belongs to the Lord alone. "The years," said be, " that have intervened, and the tombs that have been opened since I spoke, have their voices too, which I cannot fail to hear. Besides, what am I-what is any man among the living or among the dead-compared with the question before us?" The speech is a searching investigation of the whole subject of slavery. It Although no allusion is made to individuals, those who have attempted to defend and palliate American slavery will writhe under the keen edge of the Senator's scalpel, and some of them will give vent to their feelings in a howl of pain, like Senator Chestnut of South Carolina. He could not contain his

than a Damascus blade. He said: Before this question passes away, I think I ought to make some reply to the Senator from South Carolina. I exposed to day the barbarism of slavery, and I believe that what the Senator has said I might well print was put about on the other tack, heading in the appendix to my speech as an illustra-

Sumner's reply was concise and sharp

That was all he said. It was enough .--He had the best of all illustrations of the "barbarism of slavery," which had produced such a senator as Chestnut.

We notice that the New York Tribune, and some other republican papers, regret that Mr. Sumner chose the occasion of the discussion of the admission of Kansas, for the delivery of his speech; suggesting that it may have driven away some of the tender footed democracy, who might otherwise have voted for the Kansas bill. Not, only this, but they speak somewhat disparagingly of the speech itself. It is too irritating, just now, &c. Now, we believe it is a good speech to make and to be read at this time by all republicans who believe what they preach in relation to slavery. There is a white-livered, milk-and-water sentiment spreading abroad not promotive of a healthy public sentiment on this subject.

A STAMPEDE IN SOUTHERN INDIANA .-The old German daily newspaper, the Volksbode, of Evansville, Ind., which has been democratic in politics from its first issue, has hoisted the names of Lincoln and Hamlin and is doing battle valiantly for the republican cause. The Volksbode was anti-Lecompton during the pendency of that issue, and has now separated itself entirely from the nuclean party which it has served so long. The result of its movement has been a tremenduous stampede of German thrown aback, the quarter bout was lowered, voters in southern Indiana and the Wabash and in less than five minutes I, was taken counties of Illinois, to the republican ranks.

FRANK BLAIR IN CONGRESS .- The Hon. Francis P. Blair, jr., of Missouri, was yesterday awarded his seat in the thirty-sixth Congress, by a vote of 98 to 96. The newsis not expected, and will be hailed with gravification by his many friends throughout the country.

The Freeport Journal of the 0th states that on Sunday last, a house in that viciniity, occupied by George Garman, was struck by lightning. The charge was so heavy that the lightning rod could not carry it off. It melted the rod in two, where it was joined by a brass nut, and melted the point down. The shock was so great that it prostrated Mr. Garman and his whole family, but no one was seriously injured.

[Concluded.] Then again a gleam of hope would flit across my mind. I was not so badly off as I might have been! I had something to cling to, which, if the weather should continue moderate, would aid me to float perhaps for a long time on the water, and my beart throbbed with a pleasurable sensation as the idea flashed across my mind that if I could hold on until the next morning, it was ABRAHAM LINCOLN, possible some vessel might be crossing that spot, and would pick me up! But when I reflected that vessels were seldom fallen in with in that part of the ocean, and that it one passed within a quarter of a mile, was a thousand to one against my being dis-covered, having no signal to display, I again abandoned all hope, and could hardly help regretting that my miseries were prolonged. Then again fortitude would come to my aid, and I determined, desperate as my condition seemed to be, to struggle for life as long as I could move a muscle—to stave off to the most distant period possible the hour of death; for, oh shipmates, life is sweet! Though we sometimes meet with rough weather, head winds, sqalls, typhoons and pamperos on the voyage, yet we meet with prosperous gales, balmy breezes, and un-ruffled seas. Yes, there are many joys and comforts as well as troubles in this world, and as to the future—who knows what will be its character? Not a poorignorantsailor like myself1

And then I thought of my home, of my childhood, of my schoolboy days, when I rambled through the woods and pastures, gay and happy in the present and looking forward to joys in the future. I thought of my parents, of my kind and loving mother, my brothers and sisters, none of whom had I seem for several years, and they never seemed so near and dear to me as at that moment when I was about to land on the dark shores of another world.

But it is impossible to recount what passed through my mind on that terrible night —a night so long that I feared it would never end. My nerves were strung to their at most tension, my head beat violently, and my brain throbbed with excitement. If I should live for ages I should never forget it. How rapidly I thought! How clear and ing that a certain unlicensed canine in that vivid were my recollections! My whole town was a sheep-killer, went to the owner's life, with its many incidents, and every person with whom I had ever associated or in whose welfare I had felt any interest, passed in review before one.

Hours passed away. The wind was light, and the sea comparatively smooth. When I awoke the streaks of early dawn were making their appearance in the cast, and I eagerly watched the approach of day to scan the horizon round. Having been tion of all personality declaring that ven so wonderfully preserved for many hours, I was again led to indulge in faint but hardly acknowledged hopes that I might be resened by some passing vessel.

As daylight became cleaver, I could see to a considerable distance in every direction, but no object met my view excepting the sky above and the dark water beneath and around me. The last spark of hope seemed extinguished, and I made up my mind to die like a man l

But as the sun rose above the horizon an object in the west caught my eye which reunsparingly lays bear to the gaze of the flected the rays of the sun and shone like a world the barbarism of this monster wrong. white speek afar off. I knew at once that it was a ship, and my heart throbbed again with expectation and hope. I kept my eyes steadily fixed upon that object, anxions to know whether it was approaching or reced ing, and I soon became convinced it was coming towards me!
The vessel came nearer. I could soon count her sails and see between her masts, and became aware that the ship was on rage when Mr. Somner sat down, and arose | wind steering to the northeast, and that if in his place and delivered a short reply, she kept on her present course, would pess which was conceived in the same spirit of me at least a couple of miles to the north ward. Nevertheless, I watched the course of ruffianism which incited Brooks and Keitt, that vessel with intense interest. Every and for savage brutality has no parallel in maneuvre, every motion, was closely noted, congressional cowardice and malice. Mr. stance would occur to change her course and bring her within hail. But when an hour passed, and she continued steering in the same direction, my hopes were again de couple of points, and to my great joy she in old age is dying. The cross is now as almost directly toward me!

As the ship approached the wind became unsteady and sometimes I was on her weather bow and sometimes on her lee bow, and one can imagine my agonizing suspense as I watched that vessel. As she came near, a flaw struck her and headed her off a couple of points, enough to carry her past and beyond the reach of my voice. Knowing this was my only chance, I quitted the hatchway, which had thus far sustained me in the water, and swam off in the direction to intercept the passing vessel. Fortunately for me the wind was now light and the ship was a dull sailer, and I soon reached a position directly in her hawse, which I was confident would enable me to communicate

As soon as I thought my voice could be heard by the men upon her deck, I began to hail "Ship aboy! Ship aboy! Ship

I hailed several times, and was nearly along side to leeward, before I could attract the attention of any one on board. At length the man at the helm called out, " Captain Holfax, I believe somebody is hailing the ship there to leeward."

The captain, mates and all hands rushed to the side of the ship, and were half frightened to death at seeing my ugly-looking head sticking up out of the water, and hearing me in a hoarse and husky voice urging thom for God's sake to send a boat, for I was almost perishing!
This appeal brought them to their senses

It all at once flashed upon their minds that I was no marine monster, plotting their de-struction, but a poor fellow-creature floating on the water and strugging for life .-The captain waved his har, the men gave three cheers, the most welcome sounds l eyer listened to. The main-top-sail was from the water, kindly welcomed and tenderly nursed on board the ship Janissary, bound from Providence to Gibraltar and Marseilles! Yes, shipmates, I was treated in the kindest manner on board this ship, supplied with clothes and made comfortable in every respect. But the Janissary being no clip-per, we were a long time reaching Gibraltar; and on the afternoon on which we entered the bay we espied the brig Crocodile under way, bound up the Mediterranean.

I never saw a man so astonished as Captain Romney was when he caught my eye as I passed over the gunwale. He turned as pale as an iceberg, and stapped back a pace or two as if he had seen a ghost. But when I listed my hat, and he heard my voice, he exclaimed, "It is Colin Hartshorn, as sure as there are alligators in Florida! Boys, he exclaimed, turning to the wondering erew, "here is our old shipmate Colin Harts norn come aboard again safe and sound, having managed somehow to get to wind-ward of Davy Jones after all!"

The Chicago Herald parades the wild barbarians who have been brought to our shores by the slave traders, and wants to know whether the declaration of indcpendence means the equality of the negro? Nobody pretends that races are equal any more than individual men, in their physical and mental endowments; but it is the equality all mon have in certain inherent rights which is the corner stone of the edifice erected by the fathers of our country, by the promulgation of the declaration of are poor or rich-whether they are intellectual giants or not-whether they have an aristocratic ancestry or are of plebian birth: -have an equal right to MIFE, LIBERTY and Phia. the Pursuit of Happiness. This is all that is meant by the equality of men, and those who pervert this understanding of a great principle, are those who palliate slavery and are preparing the way for its introduction into all the states of our country. They expect to succeed by pandering to the prejudices of the ignorant and their demagogueism as of the most pernicions kind.

The Baraboo Republic says that a curions trial under the dog law took place in village last Saturday. The constable of absence, and against the protest of the family, dragged out the dog and despatched him. This affair took place before the time specified in the supervisors' notice as to the imit of unlicensed curs, and created some ittle excitement. The owner sued the constable and recovered twenty dollars and

Douglas on Cows .-- A clever writer in he Scioto Gazette thus illustrates the duplicty of Donglas:

"But that Stephen A. Douglas should object to a juggling dodge because of its duplicity, is truly refreshing! It has been his study, day and night, for the last six years, to conocal his real position (if he has any, which no man can prove) by ambigu-ous parases, capable of two or more interprotations. We have often thought if it became necessary for the Little Giant, in a public speech or a political resolution, to refer to a cow, he would never write or speak the word as other men, c-o-w-cow; but would put it in this style—"the female but would put it in this style—"the female quadruped which supplies the human family with lacked fluid." See the advantage! Egypt would swear the Little Giant meant their favorite camel, and would grow onthu-siastic. Lovers of "switzer cheese" would regard him sound on the goal, and support him. The "Arabs" (we have a large class of them) would quote his language as proof positive he was a lover of maren; while the lenizens of the Blue Grass Region would never for a moment suspect he could have meant any other animal than the bovine

THE CROSS.—The following striking passage is from Henry Ward Beccher's sermon preached last Sunday in the pulpit of the late Theodore Parker at Boston:

"The cross has twined around it every association of dignity and beauty in the world. Not one other thing has received from the fertile minds and the all-fashioned hands of men of genius so many intrinsic eauties as the cross of Christ. Millions lever hear of it without a throb nor see it reflected without a genufiection. It dawns apon the child in the cradle next to its own nother's face and it is the last thing from which the light disappears when this child universal and as beautiful to the associations and the memories of men, as then it was race, peculiar and odious; it is that which now to us is not only suggestive of a fact in Christ's history, but it is also a memoriel of two thousand years of history.— Around that simple crosswood the heart of he world has gathered for twenty centuries ts stores of admiration, of love, of devotion

LINCOLN AMONG THE CHILDREN .- The following circumstance was related by a teacher from the Vive Points House of Inteacher

dustry in New York : "Our Sunday School in the Five Points was assembled one Sabbath morning a few months since, when I noticed a tall and remarkable looking man enter the room and terday, on the track of Laut McC. take a seat among us. He listened with fixed attention to our exercises, and his countenance manifested such genuine interest that I approached him, and suggested that he might be willing to say something to the children. He accepted the invitation with evident pleasure, and coming forward, room into silence. His language was strikingly beautiful, and his tones musical with ntensest feeling. The little faces around drooped into sad conviction as he uttered sentences of warning, and would brighten into sunshine as he spoke cheerful words of promise. Once or twice he attempted to shout close his remarks, but the imperative of "Go on!" "Oh do go on!" would compel him to resume. As I looked upon the gannt and sinewy frame of the stranger and ing the room, I begged to know his name. He courteously replied, 'It is Abraham Lincolu of Illinois.'"

TRIUMPH OF COMMON SENSE.—The Rev. Dr. Cummings, the "Great Tribulation" prophet of England, in a lecture on the fulfillment of prophecy, recently delivered, referring to the taunt in the columns of Punch that he, notwithstanding his belief that the world was to come to an end in 1867, recently renewed the lease of a cottage for fifty years, admitted that the accusation, although not literally, was generally true; but his answer to it was that a belief in prophecy should not over-ride common of "sensation" preachers on either side of the Atlantic.

Proceedings of the City Council.

REGULAR MEETING, FRIDAY EVENING, June 8. Present-The Mayor, and Ald, Bates Belton, Dickson, Smith, Shelton and Pearce. Absent-Ald. Pease and Tallman.

On motion of Ald. Shelton, the mayor and treasurer were authorized to raise the money necessary to pay the cupons on city bonds due July 1, 1861.

The license committee reported in favor of extending the liceuse of George Graham on his paying $25.

The same committee reported in favor of a license to John Roethenger, on payment of $25 therefor, and $25 as costs in the suit against him. The same committee reported against the petition of the druggists of the city for a reduction of license to sell liquors, and recommended that license be-granted them on the payment of the usual fee. The same committee reported in favor of a license to S. W. Shaksheskey. These reports were all concurred in.

An order was adopted for the discharge of a mortgage held by the city against B. Gardiner, the same having been paid. An order was adopted to receive scaled proposals for lighting and taking care of the council room for one year. An estimate of the expenses of the schools of the city for the next year, and a recommendation to lay a tax of $6,500, from the board of education, was received and referred to the finance committee.

A petition from two-thirds of the property holders on West Milwaukee street for paving the street and laying sidewalks on that part of that street where there are none was to prepare the necessary papers and report them to the council. Twenty-five dollars of the license fee for

Van Amburgh's menagerie was remitted. The city attorney and alderman from the 4th ward had leave to withdraw their report on the petition of S. Chase for damages for injuries received in the street near Monterey Bridge. [It is understood that the proposed defence on the part of the city, that the street had never been legally opened, is not a valid one, the street having been legally laid out and opened.] The printing committee were instructed to ascertain the expense of printing a requisite number of copies of the city charter. The repeal of the ordinance for the arrest of drunken men in the streets was referred

Fire Department.

The annual review of the fire department took place yesterday. All the companies of the city were out and the review was conducted by the chief engineer, mayor and common council.

After the review, the following address: was delivered by Mayor Treat: GENTLEMEN OF THE FIRE DEPARTMENT:

Upon an occasion like this-an annual eview of the fire department of the cityt may be proper, in behalf of the common council and the citizens of Janesville, that I should say something to you who voluntarily organize yourselves into an association for the very laudable purpose of proteeting the lives and property of our people from the revages of fire.

I congratulate you upon the efficiency of your organization, and the fidelity and compiness with which you have performed the duries entrusted to you; and I assure Groceries and Family Stores! you of the admiration and approval of a protected public.

You are deserving of unbounded praise or the energy and untiving devotion you Physicians' & Druggists' Glass Ware, have manifested in originating and forming your companies. You have done it without any expectation of an emolument or veward, save that which you all receive from Drugs, Medicines, Paints, Oils, Varnishes, the grateful hearts of your fellow citizens.

The utmost harmony and good-will have ever prevailed among you in council, and out of it the every-day business of life .--You seem to have learned that this life is entirely too brief for you to nurse animosities, harbor wrongs or plot revenge; and if divisions have occurred or ill-feelings been engendered, they have been forgotten with the passing hour that originated them; and to-day, gentlemen, your names among firemen throughout the state are as familiar as household words. You are unsurpassed as Mudical and Chemical Preparations and firemen, as your trophies from abroad justly testify. You are well worthy of the name of firemen, and as such you have ever received the best wishes of the good citizens, and the cordial approval and support of the common council.

Where all have done their full share in promoting the best interest of the department, I have no desire to particularize ;but when I say that much of the efficiency of your organization and the good feeling prevailing at this time is attributable to Ira Justin, Jr., your worthy chief engineer, who has for so many years occupied his present position, you will each and every one of you bear me witness.

The mottoes of your various companies upon your hanners, "We raze to save," Actuated by benevolence, impelled by emulation," "Rock River, a never failing stream," are emblematic of your motives. referred to Ald. Belton and the city attorney and I trust that you will ever act in accordance with them.

Indulging the hope that in the future, as in the past, your conduct as firemen and citizens will be such as to merit the approbation of the people and the approval of the common council, I extend to you our kind regards, with the assurance of a hearty co-operation in the arduous duties which becomes your province as firemen to perform.

The address being concluded, the line was formed according to the published order of the chief engineer, and marched through the streets designated to the lower bridge, when the trial between the engines took place, Messrs. Wm. A. Eager, J. H. Vermilye and Robert Patten as judges, and Mr. Platt Eycleshimer keeping the time.

[The result of the playing was to have been officially made by the judges and handed us for publication, but up to the time of
